

Construction Toys Displayed in Water Park

The Munsu Water Park frequented by our people tells the loving care of the respected Comrade Kim Jong Un for them.

One day, he dropped in at a gifts shop in the water park.

While stressing the need to increase the varieties of goods and display them well, he cast his eyes at a stand in which construction toys for children were on display.

Pointing to the stand, he asked officials why the toys were displayed in the water park.

The officials blushed as it was self-evident that no child would amuse themselves with the toys while playing in the water park.

The toys revealed the stereotyped ideas of officials who ignored the peculiarities of the shop to be operated in the water park.

That day, Kim Jong Un instructed them to rearrange the shop in keeping with the mission of the water park and properly exhibit the goods.

Later, the goods displayed in the shop were replaced with those suited to its feature.