

With Motherly Affection

Our Party officials cherish in their mind every paragraph of the immortal classic work On Strengthening the Primary Party Committees the respected Comrade Kim Jong Un published in December 2016.

In his work, Kim Jong Un stressed the need for Party officials to become true servants and warm-hearted mothers who are loyal to the people, and continued:

They should be fully aware that they exist for the great people whom President Kim Il Sung and Chairman Kim Jong Il believed in as in heaven and regarded as their mentors throughout their lives, and respect them, lend an ear to their opinions and implement the Party's policies by relying on their strength. The whole courses of their work and life should be run through with selfless, devoted efforts for the sake of the people.

It was his earnest request that all the Party officials should serve, look after and love the people with motherly affection.

His instruction is an immortal guideline that the Party officials should thoroughly embody in their work and life.
